Background

It has been a long time since I went to meet Dolly Mam. After reading the story of Queen Victoria and Abdul, I wished to meet her.

As soon as I went to the cantonment gate, I was asked many questions at once.
I simply replied, I was going to meet General Walker uncle.
They guards on the cantonment gate were a little shocked but they let me in.

Madam's husband died 8-10 years ago, Mam lives alone. A golden vine has grown up the stairs of Mam's house. A parasitic tree. Golden vines have similarities with Israel.

- You send articles to newspapers, when did you become a writer?
I said with a smile – I don't know how it happened.
- I won't force you, but if you can, study a little about World War III. It has already begun. The Aryans have succeeded in their plan, I think we are a little late.
I was shocked and asked, how? When?
- It's very easy to understand, the day Italian Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni started taking selfies with Modi, leaving out French President Emmanuel Macron, I understood that World War III had begun. I don't read newspapers regularly. I see people's emotional attachments. Will you have tea?
- Who will make it?
- Did you know that Russia considers only one country in the world to be its enemy – its name is Germany. The background of World War III is written in the Eastern Front of World War II, also known as the Great Patriotic War. This war, which lasted from 1941 to 1945, was responsible for about 80% of all German military casualties and at least 26 to 27 million Soviet deaths (military and civilian), which is almost half of the total deaths in World War II worldwide. You could say that this was the war that made Germany lost World War II. The Russians know that the Aryans will come to avenge this war. All their war movies say that – “one day Aryans will come to avenge Great Patriotic War”.

- But Mam – that was a long time ago!
- Going somewhere? I haven't gone out for a long time.
- Hmm, I'll go.

Mam looks great wearing a sari.
Riaz, who am I to you?
- No one special ..... You were my University instructor.
Mam replied with a mischievous smile, 'Then why do you come to me?'
I looked at Mam in a defeated manner and averted my eyes.
- Where are we going? To ‘Chandrima Udyan’ (‘Moonlit Garden’)?
- I'm wearing a sari after a long time. How do I look?

We don't have to say anything to each other. Those who understands will understand.

Background of World War III

The Eastern Front, also known as the Great Patriotic War or the German-Soviet War, was a battlefield of World War II fought between the European Axis powers and the Allied Powers, including the Soviet Union (USSR) and Poland. It spanned Central Europe, Eastern Europe, Northeastern Europe (the Baltic), and Southeastern Europe (the Balkans) and lasted from 22 June 1941 to 9 May 1945. Of the estimated 70–85 million deaths in World War II, approximately 30 million occurred on the Eastern Front, including 9 million children. The defeat on the Eastern Front determined the outcome of the European Theater of Operations in World War II and was the main reason for the defeat of Nazi Germany and the Axis powers in World War II. Historian Geoffrey Roberts notes that "more than 80 percent of all fighting during World War II took place on the Eastern Front".

The battles fought on the Eastern Front included: Operation Barbarossa, Battle of Stalingrad, Battle of Kursk, Operation Bagration, etc. The Battle of Stalingrad has been called one of the bloodiest battles in human history.

"Without American production, the United Nations/Allied Powers would never have won the war." — Joseph Stalin at a dinner at the Tehran Conference, 1943.

We will find out how such friendly relations turned into enemies.

NATO

The foundation of NATO is the Atlantic Charter, a 1941 treaty between the United States and the United Kingdom. This charter created a framework for international cooperation without territorial expansion after World War II. On 4 March 1947, in the aftermath of World War II and at the start of the Cold War, France and the United Kingdom signed the Treaty of Dunkirk, a treaty of alliance and mutual assistance in the event of a possible German attack. In March 1948, the Treaty of Brussels extended this alliance to include the Benelux countries, forming the Brussels Treaty Organization, commonly known as the Western Union. That same month, discussions began in the United States to form a larger military alliance that would include North America. Their foreign policy, under the Truman Doctrine, formulated in 1947, encouraged international solidarity against acts of communist aggression, such as the February 1948 coup in Czechoslovakia. As a result of these negotiations, on 4 April 1949, the member states of the Western Union and the United States, Canada, Portugal, Italy, Norway, Denmark, and Iceland signed the North Atlantic Treaty.

After the London and Paris conferences, West Germany was allowed to rearm militarily as it joined NATO in May 1955, which was a major factor in the creation of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact, which depicted the two opposing sides of the Cold War.

West Germany officially joined NATO on May 6, 1955, becoming the 15th member of the alliance. On May 14, 1955, the Soviet Union formed the Warsaw Pact. The Warsaw Pact was essentially a military alliance in opposition to NATO, which led to the Cold War.

Now the question arises, NATO was strong enough in 1949 but why did the Soviet Union (Russia) not form the Warsaw Pact or any other military alliance at that time? Why did the Soviet Union (Russia) form the Warsaw Pact as soon as Germany joined NATO? The reason for this is probably that the Soviet Union (Russia) was not worried about America, France, England or did not feel any threat from them. But as soon as Germany joined NATO, the Soviet Union (Russia) became worried about its security because they had not forgotten about World War II.

In March 1966, French President Charles de Gaulle announced the withdrawal of France from NATO's integrated military command structure, a move designed to restore full French sovereignty and reject perceived American dominance within the alliance. France did not leave NATO's political organization but withdrew its armed forces from the joint command, expelled all non-French foreign troops and installations from French soil, and withdrew its personnel from NATO headquarters.
It is important to understand one thing here. I think, France withdrew from NATO to reject American dominance – that is a wrong analysis. France found that the same Germany that had occupied France in World War II was now a member and influencing decisions of NATO.

“France withdrew from NATO's integrated military command in 1966, primarily to preserve the strategic independence of its Force de dissuasion (nuclear deterrence) and to prevent US control of French nuclear assets.”

In 2009, under President Nicolas Sarkozy, France rejoined the NATO military command structure, although it maintained its independent nuclear deterrence and did not participate in NATO's nuclear planning system.

It should be understood that France never considered America a threat to itself, but there have been many presidents in America who were excessively inclined towards Germany – I think that is what scared France. These things will become clear to you later.

German Reunification

After the end of World War II in Europe, the old German Reich effectively ceased to exist, with the unconditional surrender of all German armed forces and the complete absence of a central German government, Germany was occupied and divided by four Allied powers. No peace treaty was signed. Two new countries emerged. The American-occupied, British-occupied, and French-occupied zones were united on 23 May 1949 to form the FRG, West Germany. The Soviet-occupied zone was formed as the GDR, East Germany, in October 1949. West Germany (FRG) was allowed to join NATO in 1955.

In 1990, there continued to be differing opinions on whether the two states could be reunited to represent "Germany as a whole". In the wake of the 1989 revolutions; on 12 September 1990, under the Two Plus Four agreement with the four Allies, both East and West Germany committed to the principle that Germany could claim a government covering the entire territory of their common pre-1990 borders, i.e. East and West Germany would be united as one state, 'Germany'.

My first question: Why was West Germany (FRG) allowed to join so quickly in NATO in 1955? How was a country that had just started World War II, a war that had killed over 80 million people, allowed to join NATO so quickly and given the right to build and stockpile military weapons? Hitler seems to have fought alone! NATO allowed the Federal Republic of Germany (West Germany) to join in 1955 primarily to achieve the 'dual deterrence' strategy: to consolidate West German military power to counter Soviet expansion in Europe and “at the same time to prevent a revival of German militarism through strict alliance control”. The above is a lie because West Germany's military capabilities could have been controlled without allowing it to join NATO. The only reason, West Germany was admitted to NATO to use its strength against an enemy – the Soviet Union (Russia) – such a wrong decision it was!

Before 1955, NATO members were: Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, United Kingdom, United States, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, United Kingdom, United States, Greece and Turkey.

The Treaty of Dunkirk in 1947 was the foundation of NATO. The purpose of the Dunkirk Treaty between France and the UK was to jointly confront any future German attack. Was that treaty was made against the Soviet Union? In the United States, discussions began to form a larger military alliance, which could include North America. There, under the Truman Doctrine, formulated in 1947, their foreign policy encouraged international solidarity against acts considered 'communist aggression', such as the February 1948 coup in Czechoslovakia.

What is the Truman Doctrine? The Truman Doctrine is a US foreign policy that pledged American support for US-backed countries against perceived authoritarian threats. The doctrine originated primarily during the Cold War with the goal of countering the growth of the Soviet bloc. It was announced to Congress by President Harry S. Truman on March 12, 1947, and was further developed on July 4, 1948, when he pledged to oppose the communist uprising in Greece and Soviet claims over Turkey. More generally, the Truman Doctrine signaled US support for other countries threatened by the Soviet Union. It led to the formation of NATO in 1949. Historians often use the date of Truman's speech to Congress on March 12, 1947, to date the beginning of the Cold War.

Now if we ask President Putin, did the Soviet Union carry out a 'communist invasion' of Czechoslovakia in February 1948? I think President Putin would answer, "No, the people of Czechoslovakia voluntarily accepted communism." Without going into the question of who was right, America or the Soviet Union (Russia), we can say that most of the problems and wars have arisen because of attempts to establish one's hegemony in the world.
Harry S. Truman quickly adopted the "Communists are our enemy" doctrine. So, the Soviet Union went from being an ally to an enemy in just 10 years. Then this hostility continued to grow. West Germany benefited the most. We will see in this book – what level West Germany's inclusion in NATO later took them.

Small attempts to unify East and West Germany had little effect. As the Soviet Union's economic situation deteriorated in the 1980s, Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev decided to abandon intervention in the Soviet sphere of influence, that is, to refrain from political or military intervention.

Who would step forward to unite the two part of Germany? Austria-Hungary – Germany's ally in World War I. That's right. In May 1989, in the wake of the fall of communism in Hungary, the government of the Hungarian People's Republic began removing the barrier along its border with Austria. The removal was part of a wider wave of revolutions that were taking place in various communist countries in Central and Eastern Europe. The border was still heavily guarded, and Hungarian security forces tried to keep out refugees. The dismantling of the electric fence along the 240-kilometer (149 mi) long border was the first crack in the Iron Curtain. The Pan-European Picnic then set off a chain reaction in East Germany, culminating in the fall of the Berlin Wall.

In April 1989, the Hungarian government ordered to de-electrify the barbed wire fence along the Hungarian-Austrian border. On May 2, the Hungarian border guard began removing parts of the barrier. On June 27, the Hungarian Foreign Minister, Gyula Horn, and the Austrian Foreign Minister, Alois Mock, held a symbolic fence-cutting ceremony at the Sopron (Hungary) border crossing.

Pan-European Picnic: This was a peace rally held on August 19, 1989, on the Austro-Hungarian border near Sopron, Hungary. The opening of the border gates between Austria and Hungary at the Pan-European Picnic was part of a series of reactions that led to the reunification of Germany, the collapse of the Iron Curtain, and the collapse of the Eastern Bloc. The communist government and the Warsaw Pact subsequently dissolved, ending the Cold War.

The idea of testing the Soviet Union's reaction to the picnic by opening the border came from Ferenc Mészáros of the Hungarian Democratic Forum (MDF) and Otto von Habsburg, then president of the Pan-European Union and former crown prince of Austria-Hungary. They presented the idea to Miklós Németh, then prime minister of Hungary, who also supported the idea.

Anyone familiar with World War I is familiar with the relationship between the Austro-Hungarian royal family and Germany. Ferenc Mészáros and Otto von Habsburg wanted to see the Soviet Union's reaction to the unification of two Germany through the picnic, So, We can understand that there was no problem with the unification of the two Germany from America or NATO.

Yet British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher said, “We defeated the Germans twice! And now they're back!” —Margaret Thatcher, December 1989.

British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher was one of the staunchest opponents of German reunification. Before the fall of the Berlin Wall, Thatcher told Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev that neither the United Kingdom nor, in her opinion, anyone in Western Europe wanted German reunification. Thatcher also made it clear that she wanted the Soviet leader to do everything he could to stop it. She told Gorbachev, "We do not want a united Germany."

Margaret Thatcher convened a historic seminar of diplomats at Chequers to ask the question - "How dangerous are the Germans?" and the French ambassador in London reported that Thatcher had told him, "France and Great Britain should unite today to confront the German threat."

If we think Margaret Thatcher was a fool, then we are stupid.
A survey conducted in four countries in January 1990 found that while most Americans and French respondents supported German reunification, there was a difference in opinion among the British and Poles: 69 percent of Poles and 50 percent of French and British respondents said they were concerned that a reunited Germany would become "the dominant power in Europe." The survey participants expressed a number of concerns, including Germany's attempts to expand its territory, the revival of Nazism, and the over-strengthening of the German economy.

Now compare their words in 2026. Who has the strongest economy in Europe? Germany. Germany has said that it does not need America. Germany will be the main driving force of NATO and it will be – wait a minute – you will see the fun.

In a 1990 survey, most Americans voted for German unification – why is this? 12-17% of the total population of America, i.e. 40-50 million people, are of German origin. What does Donald Trump mean by saying, "America First"? No external enemy can destroy America. If America is destroyed, it will be destroyed from within. How? There are various lobbying groups in America. They put pressure on the American government for the interests of their parental nation or country of origin. They hold rallies, hold meetings, and buy the elections of politicians with money, for example, see the Democratic primary elections in the state of Michigan. Abdul El-Sayed narrowly defeated incumbent Representative Haley Stevens in the Michigan Democratic Senate primary held on August 4, 2026. The Zionist Jewish organization AIPAC gave Haley Stevens $30 million in the election. If Haley Stevens had won, who would Haley Stevens support? Israel.

Even if Israel committed genocide, America cannot say anything because many of their politicians and Congress have sold out to Israel (AIPAC). If the President of the United States wants to do much, he will lose the presidency. Anyway, Abdul El-Sayed won the election. But AIPAC is preparing to support Republican candidate Mike Rogers in the Michigan U.S. senate election. Who would you like to see win now? Of course Abdul El-Sayed because Abdul El-Sayed did not take money from any lobbyist group. He can make the right decisions without being influenced by anyone.

Under pressure like this, American leaders cannot make decisions that fully protect America's interests. The American people march with the flags of other countries in Washington DC such a way – it seems that it is not America – it is some other country.
There are 200,000-300,000 Israeli Dual-Citizenship Holders in America alone. About 380,000 to 400,000 Israelis hold dual citizenship of European Union countries, which is a significant part of Israel's population. That is why the European Union or America did not say anything about the Gaza massacre. They watched silently because the citizens of their countries (USA & EU) are committing the genocide in Gaza. How can they stop it now? In World War II, Aryans committed genocide in Europe, now they are doing it in Gaza.

Only one European country opposed the Gaza massacre strongly – Ireland. Irish ministers and MPs have cried and protested for the children of Gaza. Do you know? Ireland is not a member of NATO! NATO is a cursed organization. They will destroy the world. America's time in NATO is over. Germany will influence the NATO decisions greatly. Write this down. Such a deceiving monster Germany is!

Now you understand why – France has withdrawn militarily from NATO? France does not trust the Germans. Not just the Germans of Germany – France does not trust anyone of German origin. After the lessons France learned in the First and Second World Wars, we cannot blame the French for this.

A representative of French President François Mitterrand told an aide to Gorbachev, "France in no way wants German reunification, although they realize that it is ultimately inevitable."

On 20 January 1990, François Mitterrand told Margaret Thatcher that a united Germany "could go further than even Adolf". He predicted that "bad" Germans would re-emerge, seeking to reclaim former German territories lost after World War II and perhaps dominate Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia, "leaving only Romania and Bulgaria for the rest of us".

All of Europe is now led by Germany. The prime ministers of France and England are experienced politicians – their experience is valuable & what they said has become true Today.
For the last five years, No prime minister in England lasts more than a year. England is finished. You may have money & Military but you do not have politicians – You are finished.

Giulio Andreotti of Italy warned against the revival of 'pan-Germanism' and Ruud Lubbers of the Netherlands questioned Germany's right to self-determination. They shared the concerns of the UK and France about a return to German militarism and the economic power of a reunited (German) country.

"I love Germany so much that I prefer to see two of them." —Giulio Andreotti, Italian Prime Minister, quoting François Mauriac.

That is, none of the influential countries of Europe wanted to see German unification. So how did Germany become unified?

Americans had no match for the historical fears of European and Soviets about German expansionism.
Condoleezza Rice of Bush administration later recalled, "The United States—and President George H. W. Bush—recognized that Germany had come through a long democratic transition. They were good friends, it was a member of NATO. It seemed perfectly reasonable to let go of any problems that existed in 1945. The question for us was not whether Germany should be unified? The question was how and under what conditions? We had no concern about a resurgent Germany… However, the United States wanted to ensure that Germany remained within NATO. In December 1989, the administration of President George H. W. Bush made continued NATO membership a condition of supporting reunification.

Gorbachev of the Soviet Union wanted a unified Germany not to be a member of NATO, but H. W. Bush made this a condition. Bush wanted a strong Germany. Now it is understood Why the former Crown Prince of Austria-Hungary, Otto von Habsburg, was just having a picnic and wanting to see if the Soviet Union would put any obstacles in the unification of Germany? because Even if the whole of Europe blocked the unification of Germany, it would not matter because American President George H. W. Bush wants the unification of Germany.

All of a sudden, Why is it necessary after so many years that Germany should be unified? There is no reason. The reason is that George H. W. Bush is of German origin and he is an Aryan. That is why he had a deep love affair with Germany and Austria-Hungary. (The origin of the surname Bush is German, which is derived from the old German word 'Busch' (meaning bush or shrub) and was first found in the Rhineland region of Germany.)

George W. Bush invaded Iraq and destroyed it. When Saddam was alive, Iraq-Iran friendship was unimaginable. Now Iraq-Iran are best friends. George W. Bush's imaginary 'Weapon of Mass Destruction' was never found in Iraq. End result of the war: Iran & Iraq friendship.

I think, Soviet Union did not prevent the unification of Germany because they thought, the virus (Unified Germany) we are releasing in Europe will eat up Europe & America. Whether it is actually happening or not – we have seen some before and we will see more in the future.

9/11 attack & it's effect

After the 9/11 attack, America has fought many wars. The list of which is as follows:

1) War in Afghanistan (2001-2021)
2) Iraq War (2003-2011)
3) United States intervention in Libya (2015–2019)
4) United States intervention in Syria (2014 – 2026)
5) Iran War (2026 – Ongoing)

That is, the Muslim world has become unstable, just like the Balkan Wars of World War I. The conditions for World War I have been fulfilled. That is, the world has become politically polarized for another world war. The war between Russia and Ukraine is part of this process.

Russia – Ukraine War

After the collapse of the Soviet Union (USSR) in 1991, Ukraine and Russia maintained relations. In 1994, Ukraine signed the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons and agreed to relinquish former Soviet nuclear weapons in Ukraine. In return, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States agreed to maintain Ukraine's territorial integrity and independence through the Budapest Memorandum on security guarantees. In 1997, Russia signed the 'NATO-Russia Founding Act', in which Russia acknowledged that "NATO has expanded and will continue to expand its political functions".

In 1999, Russia was one of the signatories to the Charter for European Security, which guarantees the right of each state to "choose or change its security system" and to join military alliances if it so wishes. Several former Eastern Bloc countries joined NATO, partly in response to regional security threats posed by Russia. In 2005, Putin said that if Ukraine and other former Soviet states wanted to join NATO, "we will respect their choice, because it is their sovereign right to determine their own defense policy, and this will not worsen relations between our countries." Putin later said that Western powers had broken their promise by expanding NATO eastward, although no agreement or commitment had been made to this effect.

At the 2008 Bucharest summit, Ukraine and Georgia sought to join NATO, but NATO members were divided on the issue. Western European countries opposed granting Membership Action Plans (MAPs) to Ukraine and Georgia, fearing that it would destabilize Russia. NATO refused to grant MAPs to Ukraine and Georgia, but issued a statement agreeing that "these countries will eventually become NATO members". Putin strongly opposed their efforts to gain NATO membership.

In August 2008, Russia invaded Georgia and took control of the breakaway regions of Abkhazia and South Ossetia, demonstrating Russia's willingness to use military force to achieve its political goals. The weak Western response in 2008—and later in 2014—helped to make Western warnings about a possible invasion in 2022 seem less important to Russia.
It is noteworthy that neither NATO nor any other country stood up to Russia when Russia invaded Georgia. This is important information.

Revolution of Dignity: Viktor Yanukovych won the 2010 Ukrainian presidential election. In early 2013, the Ukrainian parliament overwhelmingly approved the finalization of a free trade and association agreement with the European Union (EU). Russia pressured Ukraine to reject the agreement; Russia imposed sanctions on Ukrainian goods and threatened more sanctions. Kremlin adviser Sergey Glazyev warned that Russia might no longer recognize Ukraine's borders if the agreement was signed.

Under pressure from Russia, in November 2013, Ukrainian President Yanukovych abruptly withdrew his decision to sign the agreement. This sparked widespread protests, known as the Euromaidan. Protesters protested against Russian interference, government corruption, abuse of power, and human rights violations.

After many protests and incidents, an interim government was formed on February 27, 2014. Meanwhile, the fall of the pro-Russian government in Ukraine also led to pro-Russian protests. Most of the protests took place in the Donbas region, which consists of Donetsk Oblast and Luhansk Oblast.

On 7 April 2014, pro-Russian protesters held a rally and declared the "Donetsk People's Republic" an independent state. On 29 April, armed pro-Russian protesters stormed and seized the headquarters of the Luhansk regional government and declared the "Luhansk People's Republic".

The Russian occupation of Crimea is generally considered the beginning of the Russo-Ukrainian War.

On 27 February 2014, Russian troops without any special insignia or badges began occupying Crimea. Initially, Russia denied that the soldiers were members of its forces; instead, they claimed that they were members of local "self-defense" groups. Putin later admitted that they were in fact members of Russian special forces and stated that he had decided to "return" Crimea to Russia when the revolution took place. Russia took advantage of the uncertainty in Ukraine immediately after Yanukovych was ousted. In 2014, Russia annexed Crimea.

This was followed by the Donbas War (2014–2022), followed by the Russian invasion of Ukraine in 2022, which initiated the current phase of the war.

When Russia invaded Crimea, Ukraine was a neutral country under its constitution, and Ukraine's post-revolutionary government had not yet sought NATO membership. In response to Russia's annexation of Crimea and further attacks on Ukraine, some NATO members agreed to begin training the Ukrainian military.

Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania joined NATO on March 29, 2004, becoming the first former Soviet republics to become full members of the alliance. It is important to note that the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania had never been closely associated with Russia before they became Soviet republics. In the context of the 1939 Molotov–Ribbentrop Pact, the Soviet Union occupied the states by force in June 1940. That is, the accession of the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania to the Soviet Union was a result of World War II. Like East Germany, the Baltic states are unimportant to USSR (Russia) because USSR

(Russia) never had any intention of occupying these states, but as a result of World War II, these states came under the control of USSR (Russia). Therefore, Russia will not object much if these states join NATO – this is natural. Even if these states join NATO due to the location of the states, it does not threaten Russia's security. The same applies to Sweden and Finland. Due to the location of the states, the joining of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Sweden and Finland to NATO does not threaten Russia's security.

On the other hand, Ukraine's accession to NATO is a huge threat to Russia's security due to its location. There are other reasons as well. If you have read this far, you know that the USSR (Russia) has always made a demand that Germany should not join NATO. In 1955, with the accession of West Germany to NATO, USSR (Russia) formed the Warsaw Pact, meaning that USSR (Russia) distrusts a single state in the European Union and considers it a threat to Russia's security – the name of the country is - "Germany-Austria-Hungary" (Germany and the Austro-Hungarian Empire).

I would say to the people of the world, if you think of Germany, Austria, and Hungary as separate states, you are making a huge mistake. Look at the First World War, look at the role of Austria-Hungary in the reunification of Germany. It is quite clear that Germany, Austria, and Hungary are one state, even though they appear as separate states on the map.

Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Sweden and Finland never had deep ties with Germany, but history shows that Ukraine had ties with the Austro-Hungarian Empire. We ca see from history, Ukraine was part of Russia for a long time in the past. Russia considers Ukraine a part of itself that has become independent, but if its own independent part turns against itself – Russia will not be able to accept this.

From 1772 to 1918, about 15 percent of Ukraine was under Austrian (later Austro-Hungarian) rule. During this period, the Austro-Hungarian Empire mainly controlled western Ukraine (Halychyna) - which included Galicia, Northern Bukovina and Transcarpathia; while the rest of the country was under the rule of the Russian Empire.

The fall of the Austro-Hungarian Empire in 1918 marked the end of Austrian rule, which meant that about 15 percent of Ukraine was no longer under Austro-Hungarian rule after its defeat in World War I.

After 1918, Ukraine experienced extreme chaos and division, centered on power struggles between various groups as a result of the collapse of the Russian and Austro-Hungarian Empires. The Ukrainian People's Republic (UNR), which had declared independence in 1917 and had been recognized by the Central Powers through the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk, was temporarily overthrown in April 1918 by the pro-German Ukrainian State led by Hetman Pavlo Skoropadsky; however, the republic was later re-established in November of that year.

During this time, the West Ukrainian People's Republic was proclaimed in Lviv in October 1918 and later merged with the Ukrainian People's Republic (UNR) in January 1919. However, the newly formed state had to deal with simultaneous wars against the Bolsheviks and Poland, as well as internal rebellions, which ultimately led to its collapse. The Peace of Riga of 1921 divided the territory of Ukraine; a large part of it became the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic within the Soviet Union (USSR), and the western regions were divided between Poland, Romania, and Czechoslovakia.

Ukraine has been in turmoil since 1918 and continues to be so – one faction wants to remain with Russia, the other with "Austria-Hungary-Germany", i.e. NATO.

However, Ukraine gained independence in 1991.

Putin has repeatedly claimed that his invasion of Ukraine is a campaign to "denazify" the country. He accuses the Kiev government of glorifying Nazi collaborators and committing crimes against the Russian-speaking population. He even made the same claim at the commemoration of the Siege of Leningrad in January 2024, where he pledged to "root out Nazism" and compared the modern Ukrainian army to Hitler's SS.

If you understand the information I have presented, you will understand that the rule of Austria-Hungary, that is, the rule of Germany, is returning to Ukraine – this is what Putin is opposing.
How is the rule of Austria-Hungary, that is, the rule of Germany, returning to Ukraine?
To understand this, we need to know about Volodymyr Zelenskyy.
Before that, let's remember a quote mentioned in the past. Kremlin (Russian) advisor Sergey Glazyev warned that "if the agreement (the EU-Ukraine Free Trade and Association Agreement) is signed, Russia may no longer recognize the borders of Ukraine."

Russia knows very well that there are two groups of people in Ukraine who control the politics and foreign policy of Ukraine. One group is pro-Russian, the other group is pro-'Austria-Hungary-German'.

In addition, there is another group of people in Ukraine who are pro-Ukrainian and they are the majority but they do not control politics. These are the general public. The thoughts and opinions of the general public of any country can be easily influenced by controlling the media and social media.

If there is no pro-Russian government in Ukraine, then there will definitely be a pro- 'Austro-Hungarian-German' government in Ukraine. Russia understood this long ago that Ukraine can never remain neutral, which is probably why Sergey Glazyev said that. Even then, if Ukraine had remained neutral, Russia would have accepted it, but Ukraine has a president (Zelenskyy) who is a slave of 'Austria-Hungary-Germany' and he has taken some steps that clearly indicate the rise of something similar to Nazi rule in Ukraine.

Volodymyr Zelenskyy

TV show Servant of the People: 'Servant of the People' is a Ukrainian political satirical comedy series (2015–2019) created and starring Zelenskyy—who later became the de facto President of Ukraine. The series revolves around Vasyl Holoborodko, a high school history teacher; after a video of him railing against government corruption and insulting others goes viral, a grassroots campaign for his candidacy begins, and he is unexpectedly elected president.

Produced by Studio Quarter 95, the show ran for three seasons. It started as a simple situational comedy (sitcom) but later evolved into a full-fledged comedy-drama centered on Holoborodko's fight against oligarchs and institutional corruption. The success of the series directly influenced Zelenskyy's political career; in 2018, he actually formed a political party called 'Servant of the People' and won the 2019 presidential election.

It is a first and unimaginable event in history that someone has become the president of a country solely on the basis of a TV show. We should also note that Zelenskyy had no previous political background or experience.

A publicly funded campaign for his candidacy began after a video of Zelenskyy rants and abuses against government corruption went viral, and he won the election.
Are we supposed to believe that? Of course, many other forces worked behind Zelenskyy's victory, the main one being social media (META- Facebook, Instagram, WhatsApp). Social media helped make Zelenskyy's TV show "Servant of the People" famous and popular. Social media repeatedly exposed Zelensky's videos to users and made Zelenskyy victorious through likes, comments, and subscriptions. The common people did not campaign for Zelenskyy by spending money on their own, they were completely influenced to believe that "Zelenskyy is the only way out".
When someone's popularity skyrockets on social media, the Main Stream Media speaks in their favor. Since Zelenskyy is pro-NATO, it can be said for sure that NATO and Google were on Zelenskyy's side in the election. That is, before the election, the entire media, including social media, worked in Zelensky's favor. So, Zelensky had no difficulty in forming a government with full legal control after getting 73.23% of the vote.

Google and NATO supported Zelenskyy after he formed a political party, but before all of that, META (Facebook, Instagram, WhatsApp) supported Zelenskyy extensively by making Zelenskyy's TV show "Servant of the People" popular and famous, and even to form a political party; Why? Because Zelenskyy is a member of a specific group. The group is called 'Jewish-Aryan'. The owner of META, Mark Zuckerberg, is also a ‘Jewish-Aryan’. That’s why META helped "Servant of the People" to become popular and META also helped Zelenskyy to become president.

Power of Jewish Aryan controlled Social Media = From Actor Zelenskyy to President Zelenskyy.

Mark Zuckerberg faced questions in the US Senate over META's controversial activities. Mark Zuckerberg faced intense questioning in the US Senate over META's role in supporting the genocide against the 'Rohingya' people in Myanmar; US lawmakers questioned him harshly about the company's failure to control hate speech despite years of warnings.
One of the characteristics of Aryans is that they support or condone genocide.

It turns out that Zelenskyy's victory was not unexpected. The Aryans support their members everywhere.

Controversial actions of Zelenskyy as president

Zelenskyy ascended to the position of President of Ukraine in May 2019. Russia did not immediately attack Ukraine, although Russia knew that Zelenskyy, a 'German-Austrian-Hungarian' agent, had become the President of Ukraine; but Zelenskyy took some actions that left Russia with no choice but to attack Ukraine. Below are some of them:

1) Centralization of power: In late 2020, decision-making powers were transferred from the parliament (Verkhovna Rada) and the cabinet to the National Security and Defense Council, effectively creating a "presidential vertical" or president-centered structure of power. That is, a significant step for Zelensky to become Hitler.

Zelensky runs the administration through direct supervision and appoints his loyalists to key security and law enforcement agencies, including the State

Bureau of Investigations and the National Anti-Corruption Bureau of Ukraine (NABU). At this time, there was a tendency for personal influence over state institutions and the development of formal institutional structures became less important; at the same time, significant informal control of the President's Office over the government was established.

2) He also pushed for the 'Anti-Oligarch Act' of 2021, designed to reduce the influence of oligarchs or the dominant rich class in politics; However, according to critics, the Act concentrated too much power in the hands of the President. Signs of fascism coming.

3) The vast majority of Ukraine's population (almost 100%) understands Russian language, and many of them are bilingual for historical and regional reasons.

The 2019 Law on the Protection of the Functioning of the Ukrainian Language has come into full force; it mandates the use of Ukrainian language in the media, education, business, and government, and requires that 90 percent of television and film distribution content be in Ukrainian language, and 50 percent of published books be in Ukrainian language, according to specific quotas. In other words, Russian speakers are targeted and the law is designed to marginalize and eliminate the Russian language, even though a large part of Ukraine's population is Russian-speaking.

While 29.6 percent of Ukrainians in the 2001 census reported Russian language as their mother tongue, today about 16 percent of Ukrainians consider Russian language their mother tongue.

9–12% of Ukrainians speak only Russian language at home, while 58–60% speak only Ukrainian and 30% speak both languages.

The arrival of a Neo-Hitler in Ukraine has brought about ethnic cleansing with great intelligence. We ‘Bengalis’ have shed our blood for our mother tongue, which is now celebrated as International Mother Language Day – 21st February. ‘Bengalis’ have songs about it, i.e. “They want to take away the language from my mouth……”; “21st February, dyed with my brother’s blood…….”.

Zelenskyy's NATO ambitions:

On September 14, 2020, Zelenskyy approved Ukraine's new National Security Strategy, "which provides for the development of a distinctive partnership with NATO, with the aim of achieving NATO membership."

At the end of November 2020, it became known that the NATO summit in 2021 would consider returning to the "open door policy", including granting Georgia a MAP. On February 9, 2021, the Prime Minister of Ukraine, Denys Shmyhal, said that he hoped that Ukraine would be able to adopt an action plan for NATO membership at the same time as Georgia. In response, the NATO Secretary General confirmed, during Shmyhal's visit to Brussels, that Ukraine is a candidate for NATO membership.

At the Brussels Summit in June 2021, NATO leaders reiterated the decision taken at the Bucharest Summit in 2008 that Ukraine would become a member of the Alliance as an integral part of the NATO MAP process. Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg further emphasized that Russia would not be able to veto Ukraine's accession to NATO, saying:

"Each country chooses its own path, and this also applies to joining NATO. It is up to Ukraine and the 30 NATO member states to decide whether Ukraine wants to join the alliance or not. Russia has no say in whether Ukraine will join the alliance or not. They cannot veto the decisions of their neighbors. We will not go back to the era of spheres of interest, when big countries decided what to do with small countries."

Good point. So why don't you let Iran or Turkey build a nuclear bomb? 10-12 countries have nuclear bombs, what's the problem if Iran or Turkey builds a nuclear bomb? Because according to NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg, "Russia has no say in whether Ukraine will join the alliance or not. They cannot veto the decisions of their neighbors. We will not go back to the era of spheres of interest, when big countries decided what to do with small countries."

Just as Iran is a threat to your security, Ukraine is a threat to Russia's security.

On 28 November 2021, Ukraine warned that Russia had massed around 92,000 troops near its border and that Putin was believed to be planning an offensive in late January or early February. Russia accused Ukraine of building up its own military and demanded that it provide "legal guarantees" that Ukraine would never join NATO.

On November 30, 2021, Putin warned that he would not tolerate the deployment of any NATO missile defense system (to shoot down incoming missiles) in Ukraine. He said that vehicles such as the Aegis Ashore interceptors based in Romania and Poland could be secretly converted to launch Tomahawk missiles, which would be able to hit Moscow within minutes.

In his speech on February 21, 2022, Putin again warned that Ukraine's membership in NATO would be a threat to Russia and that the alliance would use Ukraine to launch a surprise attack.

On February 24, 2022, Russia launched a full-scale invasion of Ukraine. It was the largest military attack on a European country since World War II. In his announcement, Putin claimed that NATO was building up its forces and military infrastructure in Ukraine, which was a threat to Russia, and claimed that the Ukrainian military was under NATO control. I agree with Putin. The Ukrainian military was not under NATO control, the Ukrainian military was under the control of Aryans, i.e. Germany and the Jewish-Aryans (Zionist Jews). Zelenskyy is a Jewish-Aryan (Zionist Jew).

Reuters later reported that the Kremlin's deputy chief of staff Dmitry Kozak had brokered an agreement with Ukraine in February 2022 that would have kept Ukraine out of NATO, and that Putin rejected the agreement because he wanted to annex Ukraine. It was also unclear whether the agreement had the support of the Ukrainian government. The Russian government denied the report.

It is not possible to say for sure whether the above report is true or not, but Putin will not let Ukraine join NATO – if it means using nuclear bombs – he will.

Zelenskyy's final move to become Hitler

During Volodymyr Zelensky's presidency, a significant number of ministers have resigned in two major steps.

September 2024 reshuffle: At least seven ministers and senior officials have resigned or been dismissed. These include Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba, Deputy Prime Ministers Olha Stefanishina and Irina Vereshchak, Strategic Industries Minister Oleksandr Kamyshin, Justice Minister Denis Malyushka, Environment Minister Ruslan Strelets, and State Property Fund head Vitaly Koval.

November 2025 Corruption scandal: Two more ministers, Justice Minister Herman Halushchenko and Energy Minister Svitlana Hrynchuk, resign amid an investigation into a bribery scandal.

In all, at least nine cabinet members resigned during these events, although numerous other personnel changes and dismissals occurred throughout Zelenskyy's presidency.

From the above discussion, it is clear – Zelensky does not let anyone stand in Ukraine. The only leader is Zelenskyy. Whatever he says will happen, the laws and regulations are all in his hands; the army is in his hands – everything is under his control. Neo-fascism.

The biggest trick that Zelenskyy played is this: Zelenskyy has tried his best to join NATO. NATO has also opened its doors to Ukraine. Now if Ukraine could join NATO, Zelenskyy would be the supreme leader of Ukraine and with the support of NATO, he could have remained president for another 10-15 years. During this time, NATO's advanced missile defense system would have been installed on the Ukraine-Russia border. Nuclear bombs would have been installed on the Ukraine-Russia border. As a result, Russia would have started a war. When the war broke out, Zelenskyy would say, "The country will have to be governed under martial law because of Russia's aggression; as a result, the presidential election will have to be postponed." So, Zelenskyy would have remained president. But Russia attacked Ukraine before Ukraine joined NATO and the result was the same – after the Russian invasion in 2022, Zelensky ruled the country under martial law; as a result, the presidential election was postponed and he remained in power even after his five-year term ended.

Zelenskyy and his cronies have led us into a mini-world war, and it will be difficult to come back from it.

Hamas attack, October 7, 2023

Israel has occupied the Palestinian territories, including the Gaza Strip, since the Six-Day War in 1967. In 2005, Israel dismantled 21 Israeli settlements there and disengaged from the Gaza Strip.

The Gaza Strip is considered by the United Nations, many other international humanitarian and legal organizations, and most academic commentators to be under Israeli occupation due to Israel's active control over the external affairs of the "confirmed territory" by the 2024 International Court of Justice advisory opinion.

Before the Hamas attack, Saudi Arabia warned Israel of an "explosion" as a result of the continued occupation, and Egypt warned of a catastrophe.

Israel's deliberate intelligence failure: Throughout 2023, increased settler attacks have displaced hundreds of Palestinians. In April, clashes broke out around the Al-Aqsa Mosque, a holy site in Jerusalem. In May, clashes broke out between Israel and the Palestinian Islamic Jihad group.
In September 2023, tensions between Israel and Hamas escalated, with the Washington Post reporting that the two sides were "on the brink of war." On September 13, five Palestinians were killed on the border. Reuters quoted Palestinians as saying that the days-long restrictions had affected thousands of families. In response to the sanctions, Hamas placed its forces on high alert and conducted military exercises with other groups, including openly practicing attacks on Israeli settlements.

Egypt said it warned Israel days before the attack that "an explosion of the situation [was coming], and it will happen very soon, and it will be big." Israel denied receiving such a warning, although the chairman of the US House

Foreign Relations Committee, Michael McCaul said that the warning was given three days before the attack.

According to The New York Times, Israeli officials obtained detailed attack plans more than a year before the attack. The documents detailed operational plans and objectives, including the size and location of Israeli forces, and raised questions in Israel about how Hamas had learned these details.

The document provided a plan for an attack that included a large-scale rocket attack, drones and paragliders to destroy surveillance cameras and automatic weapons installed on the Israeli border, and the entry of gunmen into Israel. The Times reported, “Hamas followed the blueprint with astonishing precision.” According to the New York Times, the document was widely circulated among Israeli military and intelligence leaders, who largely dismissed the plan as beyond Hamas’s capabilities, although it is unclear whether the political leadership was informed. In July 2023, a member of the Israeli Signals Intelligence Unit warned his superiors that Hamas was preparing for an attack. An Israeli colonel dismissed his concerns, saying, “I completely deny that the scenario as (it is) fictional.”
According to Haaretz, Shin Bet and IDF military commanders discussed a potential threat to the Nova music festival near kibbutz Re'im hours before the attack, but festival organizers were not warned.
Surveillance reports, revealed by a BBC investigation, suggest that Hamas was planning a major operation against Israel, but that senior IDF officers repeatedly ignored warnings.

A Haaretz investigation found that the IDF's high-ranking "refusal to acknowledge Hamas's readiness to attack" - a major contributor to the intensity of the October attacks.

World War I, the 9/11 attacks, the October 7 attacks all have the same thread, and the thread is "intentional intelligence failure" or "preventing intelligence agency from working". World War II is a result of World War I. The Russo-Ukrainian war is a process leading to the start of World War III. A by-product of the Russo-Ukrainian war is the Iran-US war. The process of starting a war on two fronts at the same time was initiated to cause World War III.

Evidence of secret alliance between Germany, Italy, Austria, Israel, India (BJP, Modi) i.e. evidence of secret alliance of Aryans:

Countries like Italy and the Czech Republic, as well as Germany and Austria, have resisted various EU sanctions and trade embargo bids against Israel. Since EU foreign policy and sanctions require unanimous approval by all member states, opposition from Berlin and other capitals has stalled moves to suspend the 'EU-Israel Association Agreement' or punish specific Israeli individuals.
In 2026, You have seen that Netanyahu is not listening to the American president on Gaza and the West Bank. Where does Netanyahu or Israel get this courage? Israel is not listening to America on Lebanon either.

More than a dozen other member states, including Spain and Ireland – the EU's most vocal critics of Israel – are pressing the EU leadership for a tougher EU position on Israel.

But Germany – one of Israel's closest allies in Europe – is preventing the EU from taking any stronger sanctions against Israel, arguing that they could provoke a strong response from Tel Aviv.

In the blue light of restaurant

We spent the whole day visiting ‘Chandrima Udyan’ (‘Moonlit Garden’), the military museum. We also watched a movie.
It's 9:45 pm.
Madam and me are sitting in the restaurant.
Riaz, do you feel tired?
- No, not at all.
- What do you want to eat? I have read the manuscript of your new book. You missed an important link.
- Which one? Which one?
- The New York Times said, "Israeli officials received detailed attack plans more than a year before the attack. The document described the size and location of Israeli forces, operational plans and targets, and raised questions in Israel about how Hamas knew the details of these installations in Israel."
My question is, how did Hamas get this information?
- very important point!
- Besides, you have read that Israeli intelligence and senior officials did not take any action despite receiving repeated warnings. So what do you understood? Double Agent? Israel wanted Hamas to attack, what do you think?
- It is not possible to prove it, although everyone knows that intelligence agencies do not keep any evidence.
- That is true, but don't you think – there are Israeli intelligence agents in Hamas?
- It's normal that Israel has agents in Hamas.

The waiter is coming. I don't know the name of restaurant food, I just eat.

I'm thinking, if Israel had received detailed information about the ‘Hamas attack’ a year before the attack, then the time would be October 7, 2022. We can assume that Hamas had planned this information-rich plan at least 6 months before the Israeli authorities received that document. So the time was very close to the Russian attack on Ukraine (February 2022) when information on various Israeli installations was leaked to Hamas. To find out who did it – we need to know who started the Russia-Ukraine war? Who is benefiting from this war?

Mam asked, what are you thinking?
- Who started the Russia-Ukraine war?
- Iran has been dragged into this war. Israel was the first to attack the Iranian embassy on April 1, 2024. So what do you understand?
- The 'Germany-Austria-Israel' alliance? They are the ones who smuggled information to Hamas, but what do they gain from it?
- So that Gaza can be destroyed under the pretext of this attack. Those who are good people, including America and France, are being diverted from the Russia-Ukraine war so that the Russia-Ukraine war can continue. If war can be started in two fronts, it will be easier to bring a world war. That is why Iran has been dragged into this war. America has also been dragged into the war. This is not my opinion – the Iranian and American people are saying that the Iran-US war was fomented by Israel but the truth is: it was a master plan of "Gemany-Israel-Austria".
- Damn, Israel knew that Iran would block Hormuz, meaning that America would not be able to get out of this war easily. Everyone will blame Iran & America for the lack of oil. No one is blaming Israel.
- Germany – Best in diplomacy & cunniness, You can't keep up with them intellectually. Riaz, 'Germany-Israel-Austria' want a big war, a big war.
- and they got that.
- Hmm, that's why I told you that we were a little late. Albania is a member of NATO; if Russia had attacked Albania, Albania would not have received the aid that Ukraine is receiving. Ukraine, despite not being a member of NATO, has received much more weapons and money than NATO members. Am I right?

- Exactly. When Russia attacked Georgia (2004) no one said anything so why is there so much help for Ukraine now? Because Zelenskyy is a 'Jewish-Aryan' – a member of their party. That's why Israel and Germany have gone crazy. What should I do now?
- There's nothing We can do, no one will believe us. Their alliance is very big – Germany, Italy, Austria, India (BJP, Modi), Monarch of UK, Hungary, Baltic states.
- Hmm, that's right. No one trusts America in Europe now. USA is all alone now.
- The war will be only between Russia and America. Europe will sit back and laugh, but France will be in danger. However, there is a chance. Putin is very smart. Putin knows the enemy. America will have to make a peace treaty or friendship with Russia in any way. The defeated powers of World War II have risen again and they are united. Now you understand why France did not trust NATO?
- I have repeatedly told Iran that, “You are playing according to Israel's plan, but they do not believe. Ass, all of you are ass, you destroyed the world.
- If America ever trusts Israel again, gives them money, arms, then what will happen to them? World asses.
- No use. The Jews teach them the Bible. Israel will definitely make America a puppet by misinterpreting the Bible.
- No time for that. Time seems to be very short for humanity. Nuclear war is coming. Putin will not let go, you can be sure of that.

The world war is going on but the nuclear world war has not started yet.

We no longer pay attention to food. Our minds are filled with disgust.

What do you understand by World War III?

Countries providing military assistance to Ukraine in its war against Russia:
Albania, Argentina, Australia, Austria, Azerbaijan, Belgium, Bulgaria, Cambodia, Canada, Colombia, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Kosovo, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Montenegro, Morocco, Netherlands, New Zealand, North Macedonia, Norway, Pakistan, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Serbia, Slovakia, Slovenia, South Korea, Spain, Sudan, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom, United States.

52 countries are supporting Ukraine against Russia with weapons. They are supporting Ukraine with money too.

On the other hand, there is almost no one on Russia's side: only Belarus, Iran and China.

America and NATO have imposed a severe economic blockade on Russia. The nuclear world war has not yet started, but it is on the verge of starting.

It will be difficult for us to return from here, that is, if Russia-Ukraine war does not turn into a nuclear world war but into a peace treaty – it will be an unimaginable occurrence.

Message to my respected President Vladimir Putin

“.....But those who knew that they were going to meet their Lord said, ‘How many times has a small army defeated a large army by the permission of Allah (GOD)! Allah (GOD) is with those who are steadfast.’" (Quran:2: 249)

Russian President Vladimir Putin --- Be steadfast. If Allah wills, victory is yours. Victory belongs to those who walk on the path of justice. Victory do not belong to those who commit or support Genocide.

USA, didn’t you support Gaza Genocide? The United States has vetoed six UN Security Council resolutions demanding an immediate, unconditional, and permanent ceasefire in Gaza since the conflict began in October 2023.

Russian President Vladimir Putin I have come to tell you this much, you and Russia have only three enemies in the world – a) Germany b) Israel c) Austria. You should target these three countries. First, destroy Israel. Israel must be razed to the ground. Only then all the wars of the world will stop. You can not have peace with Israel living in the world. Destroying Israel is the most important thing for the peace of the world. Remember, Zelenskyy is a Jewish-Aryan. All the problems are coming from them.

Hitler killed all the good Jews and left us with these Jewish-Aryans.

Be careful of Germany's plots. Italy, Austria, Hungary – these countries are a pack of stray dogs. They will run away anyway.

If President Putin destroy Israel, Ukraine will never fight against Russia again. But if President Putin does not destroy Israel, Ukraine will fight against Russia again & again. Trust me, It is the truth.

USA will not take any action because they know, they live in a cage named Israel (Zionist Jews / Jewish Aryans).

Why do Germany, Italy, Modi (India) support Israel in the killing of Muslims in Palestine?

Germany has not forgotten about the First World War. They are Aryans. They will take revenge for everything – this is their promise. Although the Ottoman Empire was on the side of Germany in the First World War, the Sharif of Mecca, Hussein bin Ali Al Hashmi, was on the side of England, i.e. on the side of the Allied Powers. The alliance of Germany and the Ottomans lost to the alliance of England and Sharif of Mecca in the Arab region war. This is why, Germany supports Israel in the killing and genocide of Muslims in Palestine. It is the revenge of Germany (the Aryans) against the Arabs.

Until now, my enemies were Israel, Modi (BJP, India). Now my enemies are Germany, Italy, Austria, the British royal family, Israel, Modi (BJP, India) & the government of Bangladesh.

I am fighting a 'fight of knowledge' on your behalf against the Aryans, Neo-Aryans, Jewish-Aryans. Death is not uncommon in war. I know, I am being sought. If I had hurt someone's feelings then pardon me.

Narrated Abu Umamah (RA): The Messenger of Allah, Muhammad (PBUH) said, "Indeed, Gabriel (the Holy Spirit) inspired me that a soul does not die until it has completed its term and exhausted its sustenance."
(Hiliyyat al-Awliya' 14924 Hadith: Sahih according to al-Albani)

Last Words to the Muslim Leaders

If you are a Muslim then you will support and stand with that country which destroy Israel. If Russia fight against Israel then take Russia's side. If USA fight against Israel then take USA's side.

We have only three enemies in the world: a) Germany b) Israel c) Austria. Whoever stands against them, We are with them.

I am telling you again: If Russia fight against Israel then take Russia's side. If USA fight against Israel then take USA's side. Take my words very seriously because Allah has given me such knowledge that he have not given you.

 Of course, not everyone in Germany, Italy, Austria is bad, not everyone is Aryan, but Aryans have entered various political parties and taken leadership. For example, what Zelenskyy did in Ukraine, what the BJP did in India. In India, the BJP used to raise slogans and hold meetings for the establishment of a 'Hindu State'. Modi (BJP) want to make India a 'Hindu State'.

The Indian Congress party are of good people but they are not able to come to power – that is the problem. This problem is happening all over the world.

If there is anything good in what I have discussed in this book, it is from Allah (GOD), and if there is anything wrong or evil, it is from me and the devil. Allah (GOD) knows best.
